COLLECTION OVERVIEW

Inspired by the natural beauty of timber but engineered for enduring performance, Envello Cladding transforms exteriors with warmth, texture, and timeless character.

Crafted from a resilient blend of limestone and fibre-reinforced resin, Envello captures the organic charm of wood while standing strong against New Zealand's harshest elements.

Every board is hand-moulded from carefully selected oak timber, preserving the delicate grains, knots, and subtle imperfections that give timber its soul. Yet unlike traditional wood, Envello's wood-free material resists rotting, warping and moisture, ensuring your cladding remains striking and low-maintenance for years to come. Its elastomeric surface, reinforced with UV stabilisers, protects against fading, sun damage, and the relentless impact of wind and rain.

Available in six sophisticated tones, Envello integrates effortlessly with timber flooring, interior panelling, veneer panels, and decking, allowing for seamless design continuity throughout a home or project.

More than just cladding, Envello is a celebration of material innovation and craft – bringing the sensory warmth of timber to every exterior while offering unrivalled durability. It's a thoughtful, enduring choice for homeowners and designers who value beauty, resilience, and the quiet confidence of a finish that stands the test of time.
