COLLECTION OVERVIEW

The Villa. More than just an architectural style, it's an ideal of modern New Zealand living.

A space conceived for retreat, rest and recreation, and which became central to both the country's design language and domestic identity. Inspired by the enduring appeal of these iconic dwellings, the Villa collection exemplifies the characteristics that make them so beloved – timeless beauty, exceptional craftsmanship, and distinctive character.

Celebrating charm and authenticity, Villa's rustic grade planks feature a unique rough sawn textured surface and a variety of knots and cracks. Subtle variations in texture and depth see your floor become a dynamic canvas, catching light in different ways throughout the day and revealing new details with every glance. Whether in the family home, the bach, or a commercial setting, the collection offers a welcoming, lived-in feel without sacrificing an ounce of sophistication, allowing you to create a space that's refined yet full of character.

Stepping onto Villa flooring evokes an immediate connection to nature, a subtle reminder of each plank's origins. The meticulously brushed European Oak wear layer, enhanced by the UV Cured matte lacquer, creates a surface that is not just visually appealing but also a delight underfoot.

Villa's warm, grounding character speaks of quality and craftsmanship – a durable, elegant foundation for spaces made to foster connection for generations to come.
